

2170 - FOUR MONTHS EXTENDED MEDICAID

POLICY STATEMENT	Four Months Extended Medicaid (4MEx) provides 4 months of Medicaid coverage for a Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren) AU that becomes ineligible due to the receipt of spousal support.
BASIC CONSIDERATIONS	4MEx is available to an AU that becomes ineligible for Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren) because of new or increased spousal support income OR new or increased spousal support income concurrent with changes, other than earned Modified Adjusted Gross Income (MAGI) income, that cause Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren) ineligibility. An AU with earned MAGI income that becomes ineligible for Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren) because of concurrent increases of spousal support and earned MAGI income should receive TMA. In this instance, the months of TMA and 4MEx would run concurrently. The AU must have correctly received Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren) in three of the six months preceding the first month of Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren) ineligibility. Refer to Section 2162, Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren), for criteria for correctly receiving Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren). 4MEx would begin the month following the expiration of timely notice. Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren) ineligibility may be a result of an increase in spousal support and a concurrent change. If the concurrent change alone caused Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren) ineligibility, the AU is ineligible for 4MEx. Note: “Spousal Support” is court-ordered payment from an estranged spouse or former spouse to the other spouse for support under the terms of a court order or settlement agreement following a divorce. Payments may be in one lump sum, or in a series of monthly payments. Alimony is also termed “spousal support” or “maintenance”. Increased spousal support is defined as any of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• the initial receipt of spousal support</li> <li>• an increase in the amount of spousal support received</li> <li>• the receipt of an additional spousal support payment.</li> </ul> If the AU receives a back payment of spousal support, the lump sum is budgeted as income in the month of receipt unless the accumulation is because of an administrative procedure or error. Refer to Section 2051, Verification.

CONSIDERATIONS

Spousal support may be received directly from the divorced spouse or another source such as Clerk of the Court.

The AU must report the increase in spousal support within 10 days of receiving the income. If the AU fails to report the change within 10 days of receipt of the increase, the eligibility worker (EW) must determine when the change should have been effective based on the 10 day reporting requirement.

The EW must make the change as soon as possible, but no later than 10 days after the report. If Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren) ineligibility results from the increase in spousal support income, 4MEx eligibility begins the first month following the expiration of timely notice.

Ongoing Eligibility

Once 4MEx eligibility is established, the AU does not have to continue to receive spousal support in each of the four months to remain eligible.

NOTE: If an A/R loses 4MEx because he/she moves out of state, but returns to Georgia within the same 4 month period, he/she may resume 4MEx for any remaining months.

A notice is sent at the beginning of the four month extended period specifying the months of eligibility under 4MEx. Follow the procedures for coding 4MEx cases on MISC as outlined in Appendix J-8 to ensure that the months of 4MEx are determined correctly by SUCCESS and the AU receives appropriate notice.

An AU that becomes eligible for Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren) during the 4MEx eligibility period has the option of receiving Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren) or 4MEx. If the AU elects to receive Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren) and subsequently becomes ineligible, Medicaid cannot be reinstated for the remainder of the original 4MEx period. However, if the reason for Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren) ineligibility would again qualify the AU for 4MEx, a new 4MEx eligibility period may be established.

PROCEDURES

- Follow the steps below to establish Medicaid eligibility for the AU under 4MEx.
- Step 1 Determine the amount of spousal support, the date of first receipt and the date reported by the AU. Refer to Section 2051, Verification.
- Step 2 Determine Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren) ineligibility because of spousal support income; or spousal support income in combination with other MAGI income; or other concurrent change, but not the other MAGI income or concurrent change alone.
- Step 3 Establish that the AU correctly received Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren) in three of the six months preceding the first month of ineligibility for Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren).
- Step 4 Terminate Parent/Caretaker with Child(ren) and approve 4MEx for the AU effective the month following the expiration of timely notice by entering the new or increased income in SUCCESS and allowing the case to trickle to F09.
- Note: Prior to confirming eligibility on ELIG and CAFI, go to MISC and enter the Extended Medicaid Start Date and enter a “Y” in the COA Cor field.
- Step 5 Notify the A/R of the change, specifying the four months of Medicaid eligibility under 4MEx and the individuals covered. SUCCESS will issue the notice.
- Step 6 At the end of the four month eligibility period, complete a Continued Medicaid Determination (CMD) and notify the AU. Refer to Section 2052, CMD.
