

2901 – DIVISION OF AGING SERVICES – (DHS)

POLICY STATEMENT	The Division of Aging Services (DAS) administers a statewide system of services for older Georgians and adults with disabilities. These programs seek to secure maximum independence and dignity for individuals, especially the vulnerable elderly.
BASIC CONSIDERATIONS	Services are administered through Area Agencies on Aging (AAAs), each coordinating service delivery in a designated geographic area of the state. The following are services offered: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Access Services include outreach, which locates and identifies hard to reach older persons and assists them in gaining access to needed services, information and assistance, case management and transportation.• In-Home Services, such as homemaker/chore and personal care services, are provided to older citizens. Home delivered meals are distributed as part of the statewide nutrition program. Other in-home services include respite care, friendly visiting, telephone reassurance and home management.• Community Services include congregate nutrition services, which provide meals, nutrition education and counseling and other supportive services to older persons in centers throughout the state. The services may also include adult day care, legal assistance, elder abuse preventions programs, health promotion/disease prevention programs and health insurance counseling.• Long-Term Care Ombudsmen investigate and work to resolve complaints regarding the quality of care and protection of the rights of long-term care residents. See Section 2937, Ombudsman, for additional information.

CONSIDERATIONS

- Employment opportunities for economically disadvantaged persons 55 and over are available through the Senior Community Service Employment Program (SCSEP). These opportunities include training, part-time community service employment and placement in unsubsidized employment.
- The Community Care Services Program provides the state's frail elderly and other disabled individuals with in-home health care, health related support services and places to live as alternatives to institutional care. This program serves functionally impaired Medicaid recipients throughout the state. See Section 2131, Community Care Services Program, for additional information.
- The Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorders Program provides support to people with dementia disorders and their caregivers. Projects serve clients with in-home respite care, day care center services and referrals.
- The National Family Caregiver Support Program (NFCSP) provides support services to functionally impaired elders and their caregivers such as in-home respite care and day care, information and training, and assistance with access to services. This program also may assist seniors who are caring for grandchildren.
- GeorgiaCares is a statewide coalition to assist low income Georgians in applying for the various drug assistance programs sponsored by pharmaceutical companies. This program also provides health insurance information, counseling and community education to Georgia's citizens. Customers may call 1-800-669-8387 or their local Area Agency on Aging for assistance in this program. See Section 2926, GeorgiaCares, for additional information.

Adult Protective Services (APS) is not administered by the AAA but directly from the DAS. APS provides a mechanism to report abuse, neglect or exploitation of disabled adults or elder persons who are not residents of nursing homes or personal care homes. Calls that are for emergency situations should be directed to call "911". Non-emergency reports should be directed to:

APS Central Intake Unit
